Only Girls May Read This!

By Amy Chang

"Telephone, telegram, tell-a-woman—the three quickest ways of spreading news."

What an isolated statement about a woman! Despite the fact the author is a girl, I dare say that isolation is true in some respects. Imagine the scene of a dozen ladies together, is it extremely natural that their discourse should soon turn to fashion? To a new fad picked up from some other people's mouths perhaps.

There is a popular notion that women are enemies to other people's privacy. This also, I must admit is correct to a certain extent. Some women's curiosity is really a disease, the qualities of tact and discretion are unknown and gossip seems to be the breath of life to them.

I recall once I met such a woman at a party. I was so shocked and wretchedly embarrassed when I thought how people laughed behind her back and some even left the room hurriedly after her entrance! I was even more mortified when I saw some gentlemen enter after her departure. And I remember how shocked I was when I came to the conclusion that the quotation in the above paragraph was incorrect.

I am a reporter. I have been trying to find the true meaning of the word "intelligent." Although I have been working so hard, I still cannot find a satisfactory definition.

The adjective

(a) It is always.......
(b) It is very...
(c) It is only...
(d) It is not...
(e) It is entirely...

The noun

(a) The rich are always...
(b) The poor are never...
(c) The old are nothing...
(d) The young are everything...

The verb

(a) To be...
(b) To do...
(c) To have...
(d) To see...
(e) To hear...

The adverb

(a) Very...
(b) Almost...
(c) Nearly...
(d) Exactly...
(e) Exactly not...

The preposition

(a) To...
(b) From...
(c) In...
(d) Out...
(e) On...

The conjunction

(a) And...
(b) But...
(c) Or...
(d) So...
(e) Yet...

The interjection

(a) Oh!
(b) Ooh!
(c) Ouch!
(d) Duh!
(e) Oh, my goodness!

And Nothing But the Truth

The young lady on the witness stand was asked her age by the prosecutor. "I don't know," she replied.

"Now, you see here, Miss," interrupted the judge. "This is a court of law, and you have sworn to tell the truth."

"Yes, but I told you earlier that I must only tell what I know to be the truth, and not hearsay," repeated the young lady.

"I did, indeed," the judge answered.

"Well," replied the young lady, "I can't tell you my age because my mother told me the year I was born. That's hearsay evidence, isn't it?"

"The witness is excused from answering the question," ruled the judge.

RICHARD NIXON

The Vice President Reports

Though ours was not a sight-seeing junket, we could not help being impressed by the magnificence of the country's natural beauty. There are the incredibly beautiful flowers in Guatemala, the incomparable climate in San Juan, the densely cultivated coffee plantations in El Salvador, the vast stretches of land in the Caribbean area.

Here, too, you find some of the most impressive religious, cultural and historical monuments in the Western Hemisphere. These sites serve as a reminder of the past and a symbol of our present.

Richard Nixon

Last Week's Crosswords

LIABILITY DICE OURS

DIE PART EASE

LOP A SAD MELANCOLY

SALIENTLY

In case of fire......

He takes an umbrella in case it rains.

The Vice President

Under such a leader Mexico is better to progress.

We in America have achieved some of the benefits of the Lusitania era. Perhaps we are now in a better position to understand the world and its problems. Perhaps we are now in a better position to understand the world and its problems.

Bad news from Mexico.

The American press is now giving more attention to Mexico than ever before. Perhaps we are now in a better position to understand the world and its problems.

A certain private citizen also left us an indelible mark on our memories.

In the capital of Honduras, a sail, immediately greeted by a finest Honduras surgeon, is cutting through the waves of a tuberculous hospital for the poor. He had taken his training in New York under an eminent specialist in lung surgery and had been offered a position there. He could not have commanded a higher fee in any capital of the world. Instead, he chose to come back to his own country where he devotes himself to performing operations which demand the highest technical skill.

The only fee he receives are the grateful smiles of his patients.

Yes, in our magazine, we keep a register of every smiling face. It is a reminder of the beauty of the world and the importance of our work.

Under such a leader Mexico is better to progress.